Internship Program Admissions

Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on intern selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements:

Students who are preparing for a Ph.D. or Psy. D. in clinical, counseling, or school psychology are eligible to apply. APA accreditation of the applicant's graduate program is not required, but much preferred; clinical psychology training is preferred. All applicants are required to register for the APPIC Match and submit their applications online according to the procedures adopted by APPIC.

In order to be considered, applicants must have a minimum of three years of graduate training and meet all their school's standards of internship readiness before application deadline. Additionally, by the start of the internship, applicants must possess an equivalent of master's degree, have comprehensive exams passed, and have their dissertation proposal defended and accepted. The minimal previous clinical training requirement is 500 hours of Supervised Intervention Experience expected by the start of the internship.

We evaluate applicants on several criteria, which include the total number of intervention hours, number of integrated assessment reports, theoretical proficiency, psychological assessment skills, self-awareness, cultural sensitivity, writing ability, and letters of recommendation, among others. Candidates with expressly relevant demonstrated interests and especially pertinent clinical experiences (similar patient populations, modalities of treatment, theoretical approach, etc.) receive more favorable ratings.

To ensure a good fit, potential applicants are instructed to familiarize themselves with the detailed description of the NAAPTC Doctoral Internship in Clinical Psychology posted at the program's website (<https://ramsinc.org/naaptc/>). Besides the full list of our Selection Criteria (published on the Application page), the website also provides a link to the full text of the NAAPTC Internship Handbook (<https://ramsinc.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/08/2020-21-RAMS-Doctoral-Internship-Handbook.pdf>). The Handbook contains a detailed description of the internship training curriculum and the available clinical rotations; it also includes NAAPTC policies and procedures (such as Doctoral Intern Evaluation Criteria and Procedure, Program Completion Requirements, Performance Remediation Procedure, and Grievance Procedure) and provides information on RAMS rules of conduct and most pertinent personnel policies.

Does the program require that applicants have received a minimum number of hours of the following at time of application? If Yes, indicate how many:

Total Direct Contact Intervention Hours	Y		Amount: 500
Total Direct Contact Assessment Hours		N	Amount: N/A

Describe any other required minimum criteria used to screen applicants:

Besides AAPI, applicants are required to submit a professional writing sample (de-identified psychological assessment report).

To select top candidates for our internship, the program uses the "RAMS Doctoral Internship Application Rating Scale": the first half of it comprises ratings of the written application materials and is used to identify the best candidates for the interview; the other half is used to rate the applicants' performance in the in-person individual interviews. The combined score determines an applicant's place in the ranked list of candidates that is submitted to the match. There are no absolute minimum or cut-off scores. Rather, for each applicant, a total score is derived from the ratings on all applicable criteria, and those with the highest scores are interviewed/included in the final ranked list.
